Centre for Refugee Studies (CRS) - Research Grants for Graduate Students

In conjunction with the Humanitarian Response Network (HRN), CRS at York is pleased to announce a pilot granting program that will award 2 grants of $2500 each to York graduate students engaged in humanitarian-related research and recent/current extra-curricular activities at York (2 more each at Carleton and UQAM as well).

Relevant research themes include, but are not limited to: Themes emerging from the World Humanitarian Summit; Gender and Emergencies; Disability and Inclusion in Emergencies; Education during Emergencies; and Innovation in Humanitarian Practice. This pilot program is open to registered graduate students at one of the following institutions: York University; Carleton University; and Université du Québec à Montréal.

Successful applicants will receive financial support, and be invited to Ottawa to present elements of their research to the members of the research and policy community prior to December 2017. Additional support from HRN will cover reasonable costs for your travel.

Contact crs@yorku.ca for an application form. In your cover letter, outline your recent (last 3 years) research and extra-curricular contributions to humanitarian themes and activities. Confirmation of graduate program enrollment is also required. Applications are due by 4:00pm on November 21, and should be submitted to:

- York University: Jennifer Hyndman (jhyndman@yorku.ca)
- Carleton University: James Milner (James.Milner@carleton.ca)
- Université du Québec à Montréal: François Audet (audet.francois@uqam.ca)

Remembrance Day Ceremony

Friday November 11, 2016
Gathering at 10:15am in the Vari Hall Rotunda
All are welcome

Faculty, staff and students are invited to attend York University’s Remembrance Day Ceremony on Friday, November 11th. The ceremony will take place at the Harry W. Arthurs Common – York flagpole. The community will gather in Vari Hall Rotunda by 10:15am, when the piper will lead the procession to the flagpole.

The eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month marks the signing of the armistice, on November 11, 1918, that ended the First World War.

At 11:00am that day, the guns on the Western Front fell silent after more than four years of continuous warfare.

Remembrance Day honours the men and women who were killed during the two world wars and other conflicts. Previously known as Armistice Day, it was renamed Remembrance Day after the Second World War.
