MPPAL students did York University proud, finishing in the top-five at the 2018 CAPPA/IPAC National Public Administration Case Competition. Simon Fraser University hosted the seventh annual competition in Vancouver, 23-24 February. It attracted a strong field of thirteen teams from graduate programs across Canada.

The teams examined current challenges to intergovernmental Canada associated with the Alberta-British Columbia pipeline project. The case was entitled Getting to Implementation: The Politics of Pipelines. A blue-ribbon panel judged teams from Simon Fraser, Carlton, and Johnson Shoyama (Regina) to be 2018 medalists.

True to its game-changer tradition, Team York framed the way forward as a win-win-win for Indigenous peoples, the environment, and the economy. It recommended strengthened oversight as the path to enhanced governance, relations, and results. The Team advised the Minister responsible on positive policy outcomes for the Province of British Columbia, as well as on implementation strategies with the City of Kamloops and Opposition MLAs in Kamloops.

York added to its reputation for fun, fair play, networking, and the learning journey. Our part-time MPPAL students made a full-time commitment to excellence in public administration.

Not just another pipeline project ...

The pipeline construction is a contentious issue for British Columbians; however, positive outcomes for citizens, Indigenous peoples, and the environment are achievable through an innovative implementation plan.
Announcements

McLAUGHLIN COLLEGE

As part of our popular Lunch Talk series McLaughlin College Proudly Presents:

From Design to Delivery: Building the Royal Canadian Navy of the Future

Presentation by:

Commander Robert D'Eon
Commander Helga Budden
Lieutenant-Commander Simon Summers

Commanders Robert D'Eon and Helga Budden and Lieutenant-Commander Simon Summers will discuss their experiences and knowledge of naval architecture and design. They will also provide an overview of the Canadian Naval Shipbuilding Strategy programs, explaining the complexities involved in planning the Royal Canadian Navy of the future, and the role of Canadian Armed Forces members in relation to procurement and the introduction of new naval fleets.

Commander Robert D'Eon attended all three military colleges, College Militaire Royal de St-Sulpice, Royal Roads Military College in Victoria and the Royal Military College of Canada Kingston, Ontario, where he graduated with a Bachelor's degree in Mechanical Engineering. In 2009 he obtained his Master's of Science in Naval Architecture (Mechanical Engineering) from University College London. Commander D'Eon assumed his current position as Civil Engineering Development Officer for Defence and Regional Affairs at Canadian Forces College in 2015.

Commander Helga Budden attended the Royal Military College in Kingston, Ontario. She graduated with a B Eng (Civil) in 1998 and was commissioned as an Acting Sub-Lieutenant. Over the next four years she completed her Marine Systems sub-occupational and Head of Department training and was promoted to Naval Lieutenant in 1999 and Lieutenant Commander in 2000. Commander Budden was promoted to her current rank in July 2017 and posted to CFC Toronto to take up her current post at D2 10.

Lieutenant-Commander Simon Summers is a Marine Systems Engineer currently completing the Joint Command and Staff Program at the Canadian Forces College in North York. He joined the Canadian Armed Forces in June 1999, completed his undergraduate studies in mechanical engineering at the Royal Canadian Military College in Kingston in 2003, and later earned his master's degree in mechanical engineering and naval architecture and marine engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

EVERYONE WELCOME
THURSDAY, MARCH 1, 2018
12:00 P.M. to 2:00 P.M.
SENIOR COMMON ROOM
140 McLAUGHLIN COLLEGE
LUNCH PROVIDE

PLANNING FOR CAREER SUCCESS

Learn how to stand out to employers, how to approach job postings/promote yourself, and how to create a successful linkedin profile!

Facilitated by the Career Centre
March 6, 2018
11:30-12:30pm
Founders 303

Register here: https://planning-career-success.eventbrite.ca
Coordinator, Social Action and Community Building
Family Service Toronto

Family Service Toronto are looking for a Coordinator, Social Action Community Building to provide leadership in advocacy, research, public education, knowledge sharing, and strategic communications. Reporting to the Director, Social Action and Community Building, this role coordinates FST’s projects and activities, and provides supports to cross-unit collaboration toward for local community building projects and activities through research and collaborations that foster the achievement of just and supportive communities framed in progressive social policies. This role leads the Ontario Campaign 2000 work on child and family poverty.

More information >>

Policy Analyst
Canadian Mental Health Association, Ontario Division

CMHA Ontario are seeking an experienced individual to join their Policy Department. Reporting to the Director, Public Policy, the Analyst will be the lead on health equity, Indigenous populations, and mental health and addictions. They will investigate trends and opportunities, coordinate projects, manage a community of practice, review legislation and public policy, and recommend policy options for CMHA Ontario to contribute to the advancement of mental health promotion for Indigenous populations.

More information >>

Policy and Research Advisor
Hydro One

As the successful candidate, you will provide research and policy support to the Office of the Ombudsman. With direct experience in the fields of public sector policy and research, social justice, consumer advocacy and/or administrative fairness, you will have sound knowledge and capacity to interpret policy, research and applicable legislation/regulations, as well as conduct qualitative and quantitative data analysis of complaint data, along with the identification of systemic trends

More information >>

Government Relations/ Policy Analyst
College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario

The Policy and Communications Division is seeking an experienced and dedicated Government Relations and Policy Analyst. This role combines the functions of government relations with policy analysis, requiring the incumbent to split their time equally between the two functions. The individual in this role will use exceptional communication skills, an understanding of the healthcare landscape and knowledge of Ontario’s legislative process to support CPSO in new and ongoing government relations and policy initiatives.

More information >>

Associate, Government and Regulatory Affairs
RBC

The Associate, Regulatory & Government Affairs assists in influencing and shaping the financial services policy and legislative environment to ensure RBC is able to pursue its current and ongoing business strategies. In order to accomplish this, the Associate will contribute to government engagement activities and assist in the development and implementation of strategies to advance RBC’s objectives with federal and provincial governments. The Regulatory & Government Affairs team leads the development, planning and execution of tactics and strategies to advance RBC’s objectives with governments, legislators and related community stakeholders and centres of influence.

More information >>
Policy Advisor
Deloitte Future of Canada Centre

As a Policy Advisor you will support the Public Policy Lead in identifying firm public policy priorities, shaping policy positions, and developing and implementing strategies to ensure Deloitte is a leading voice on the policy issues that matter to their business and clients. Develop policy briefs, positions papers and presentations for senior firm leadership and analyze key trends and their public policy and business implications, including by coordinating and collaborating with relevant experts and practitioners in various services and business lines across the firm and the member firm network.

More information >>

Program Manager
Park People

In this role, you will join Park People’s senior management team and co-lead Park People’s programs through the next exciting phase of growth, working with partners to deliver new and expanded programs. You will play an important leadership role as Park People emerges as a key agent for city building and positive change in cities across Canada. As a senior member of the team, you will supervise and coach a growing team of 3-5 staff delivering programs on the ground in Toronto and across Canada, in both French and English. If you are a collaborative thinker who thrives in a fast-paced growing entrepreneurial environment and wants to make your mark playing a role in shaping an organization at the forefront of city building in Canada, Park People can offer you a rewarding and fun place to work. The position is a one-year contract to fill a mat leave, with possibility of longer term opportunities within their growing team.

More information >>

Director, Strategic Initiatives and Engagement
University of Toronto

Working under general direction of the Chief of Government Relations, the Director of Strategic Initiatives & Engagement is a member of the senior team of the Government Relation Office (GRO), and contributes to its strategic direction. The Director provides senior-level managerial expertise and strategic advice to the Chief of Government Relations. They will ensure development and implementation of strategic initiatives related to the University’s external and community relations in alignment with the U of T’s mission.

More information >>

If you wish to unsubscribe from the SPPA Newsletter, please email us at: lapssppa@yorku.ca asking to be removed from the mailing list.